Meta – Give your skin an ultra moisturizing treat with this rare and effective combination of essential oils and natural ingredients.

Description

Ever think of how the pre-historic classic beauties such as Cleopatra or Helen managed to stay so beautiful and young all those years? Of course, they didn't have all the procedures we have now. But what they did have was even better and more effective. It was the power of nature. History tells us that they used to get regular facial massages with essential oils and natural ingredients such as yoghurt. What if we tell you that you can enjoy the same treatment, minus all the hassle and time involved?

Bulgarian Rose Signature Oil is the answer. It is one product that contains a magical blend of the most beneficial essential oils for your skin. It contains the Rosa Damascena and Rose Absolute oil extracted from the finest roses from Bulgaria. Known for its fragrance, rose oil is also an astringent and an anti-inflammatory agent. This means that it eliminates impurities from the surface and deep within and also repairs the damage they leave behind.

Then you have the olive oil that soothes and nourishes the skin, making it soft and smooth in just one use. These capabilities of olive oil are further enhanced by pure argan oil. It is not unusual to see this ingredient in beauty products these days owing to the high unlimited amount of benefits it offers. Grape seed oil, on the other hand, moisturizes as well as lightens and tightens the skin. When combined, the trio restores the softness, elasticity, and youth while improving the skin tone and complexion. The best part is, these are non-greasy oils that actually clean the pores instead of clogging them.

As for yoghurt, it is full of pro-biotics and essential nutrients your skin cells need to function and regenerate properly. It makes your skin glow from within.

So, when you really want a majestic gleam like a true goddess, just indulge in a luxurious oil massage with this signature product.
